A CLAIM FOR THOSE BREAKS

Breaking bones could mean weeks or even months off work.

Luckily we have this covered for you. Some Income Protection Providers have Fracture Cover available as an add on others include it as part of their plan, this also means it will not affect your Income Protection even if you've claimed on the Fracture Cover already. Some fractures are more serious than others, the amount you get per fracture differs.

FRACTURE COVER EXAMPLE

Benefits of Fracture Cover

---

- Some Insurers allow for multiple claims in one year
- Claims are sometimes paid in addition to Income Protection.
- Available to Sports Players with some Insurers and a select few even cover Rugby Players and MMA fighters.
- No deferred period. Generally meaning if you break a bone, you will get paid near enough straight away. If you are then off longer than that and have Income Protection, you are free to make your Income Protection claim, subject to the policy terms you have taken out.
